NEWPORT, L. I., Aug. 19.—Live steam that poured over 677 excursionists aboard the steamer Mackinac in Naragansett Bay late yesterday afternoon, today had claimed the lives of 14 persons, while 41 others were so badly scalded that fear was felt for their lives. Many more were less seriously burned and one person was reported missing.Groups of merry-makers on the steamer were startled by a hissing sound and a surging of the decks about 15 minutes after they had put out from Newport for their return voyage to Pawtucket. In an instant, a cloud of steam enveloped the vessel.Crowds rushed for the railing, many jumped overboard, and almost all of those below decks are believed to have lost their lives or to have been seriously burned.Cause of Disaster Mystery.
There was no loud report such as usually accompanies an explosion, and the cause of the disaster remains a mystery today. Conflicting reports said the ship's boiler had burst and that steam pipes had been broken. An official investigation was started.The bursting of a large pipe or of steam in the bottom of the boiler was the cause of the disaster, ager of the Blackstone Valley

Publishing Cos., the New York World and the Post-Dispatch.VIENNA, Aug. 19.—While 6000 police patrolled the city with drawn sabers and revolvers, several thousands stormed the Parliamentary building last night in a monstrous anti-Semitic demonstration.Mounted police rode down the rioters, while other police on foot drove them back with their sabers.
Many were injured. Seventy of the rioters were arrested.Meanwhile 3000 Jews, from all over the world, whose presence in Vienna started the rioting, met in the opening session of the fourteenth congress of the world Zionist organization to discuss the future of the Jewish state in Palestine.Outside the concert hall where the congress met were massed 1500 police. Another 500 guarded the Leopold bridge leading to the hall.Mounted police clattered through the streets, breaking up groups of Fascists who had announced they would not end their demonstrations until the Zionist delegates were driven from Vienna.Cafes and shops on the famous "Ring" are shuttered. Hundreds of windows were smashed during Monday night's riot.It is generally believed the brawl is more than merely anti-Semitic expressions of irreligious and Austrian and German elements. Behind the riots the initiated see a political move to oust the present Socialist bloc in the Government by embarrassing it internationally.The fascists propose to introduce a dictatorship of the Right by discrediting the present Liberal Republican bloc in power. When the sensational Die Stunde charges that the fascists want to put the former priest and Chancelor Zepel back in power. Whereas the charge is justified, Zepel's supporters are seemingly backing the rioters. Charges are made openly that many police are heartily in sympathy with the anti-Semites.Mounted Police Jeered.
The Reichspost, a Christian Socialist newspaper, which is the Government organ and stands close to Pa-ther Zepel, takes sides against the Zionists and summons Christian Socialist members of the Reichstag to abandon the vacations and return to Vienna.It also declares the Christian population has had enough of Jewish provocation and fears grave trouble may result. The paper wounded charges the police with brutality against the rioters.At the same time the Morgenzeitung, Zionist journal, publishes the greeting of Chancellor Ramek to the Zionist delegates.The horses of 20 mounted policemen were injured by anti-Semites in the clash in Rathaus Park, where the police were greeted with such cries as "Knights of Jerusalem" and "Jew Guardians."TRAMP CLAIMS $2000 REWARD

Apprehension of Messenger and His Confession.

By the Associated Press.

KEWANEE, Ill., Aug. 19.—Harry Goldberg, a tramp, has claimed a reward of $2,000 offered by the government for the apprehension of any mail robber connected with the theft of a registered mail pouch.Last Thursday a registered pouch was stolen from Joseph Jackson, a mail messenger, and the tramp told of a conversation between Jackson and Phillip Robertson which led to the arrest of Jackson yesterday. Robertson was wounded three times in the left arm during the second encounter.

Luigi Ranza, secretary-general of the Fascist Corporation, and Aldo Carabelli, former consul of the thirtieth legion of volunteer militia at Gallarate, fought a duel with sabers yesterday. Ranza was wounded three times in the left

Causes $11,000 DamageForgets to Turn Off Electric Iron and Small Fire Sets Off Automatic Sprinklers in 6-Story Building.A girl employee of the American Millinery Co., on the top floor of a six-story building at 615-17 North Eighth street, is believed by officials of the company to have followed the practice of the numerous other girl employees of the concern and pressed her hat with a small electric iron before leaving for home last night. Then she forgot to turn off the current.Result: A fire and water damage from automatic sprinklers, estimated by the tenants at $43,000. The building manager, however, couldn't see more than $11,000 damage.Private Watchman Martin Ryan, who keeps a night watch over the

the building at 1:45 a. m. today and saw water trickling from the main entrance. Investigation disclosed the water was cascading down the stairway from the top, dropping down the elevator shaft and dripping through the ceiling

SUSPECT ON JAWThat's the Man! Says Mrs.
Ludwig Muench, Held Up in Millinery Shop.Mrs. Ludwig O. Muench, at Police Headquarters this morning, identified in dramatic fashion a robber who took $12,000 worth of jewelry from her in her millinery shop, at 392 North Euclid avenue yesterday.The prisoner, Edward W. Heese, 37 years old, a police character, was made to walk before her in the "shadow box" of the detectives' room. Mrs. Muench leaped from her chair near this device as he strode into view.That's the man! she cried.
She swung her purse vigorously, striking Heese's jaw, until detectives pulled her away."You dirty coward," she said to Heese.Mrs. Muench had described the robber as having a foreign appearance and bushy dark hair.
This, coupled with certain information reaching the police, led them to put an all-night watch on a garage near Nineteenth street and Russell boulevard. At 8 a. m. Heese went there for his automobile, and he had his bushy dark hair clipped entirely off.Reticent her identification of Heese as the robber, Mrs. Muench pointed to a scratch near his left eye, which she said she inflicted, and to his gold teeth. A negro maid who witnessed the robbery corroborated the identification and Mrs. Margaret Wack, a friend of Mrs. Muench, who saw it also, said he resembled the robber. Heese declined to make a statement. He gave his home as 1914 Allen avenue.

EARTHQUAKE RECORDED HERE

The seismograph in the St. Louis University observatory recorded an earthquake from 6:27 to 7:04 a.
m. today, the main shocks beginning at 6:44.Brother Rueppel, in charge of the observatory, estimated the disturbance was 6000 miles west, probably in the Orient.

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—A severe earthquake shock was registered on the United States Weather Bureau seismograph at the University of Chicago, beginning at 6:18
a. m., central standard time, today. The indicated distance was 4525 miles, but no direction was shown.The maximum intensity recorded here was reached at 6:24 a. m., but the shocks were continuing at 7:45
a. m.

fulfillment of the agreement would require a big effort by the Belgian people, but that it could be done.Receipts under the Dawes plan, he said, will cover the pre-armistice debt, while the national budget can be made to meet payments of the debt contracted after the armistice.Foreign Minister Vandervelde

Heavy Windstorm Causes Slight Damage in Murphysboro, Ill.

By the Associated Press. MURPHYSBORO, Ill., Aug. 19.—Memories of the tornado of March 18 were recalled when a heavy wind, accompanied by driving rain, swept the city yesterday afternoon, causing some damage. Buildings in the process of construction and a recreation suffered most. The temporary roof of the Southern Illinois Gas Company's power plant was blown in, depriving the city of water and lights for a time. The temporary roof of the Washington School, which was damaged in the storm of March 18, was again damaged.

LAMONTE, MO., Aug. 19.—Temperature of 107 degrees was recorded here yesterday afternoon, the hottest day in two years.

BUTCHERS MUST QUIT WEIGHING THEIR HANDS WITH MEAT

Weight Commissioner Also Gives Additional Tips to Housewives to Prevent Fraud.

St. Louis butchers who still use the old trick of including the weight of their hands in measurements either must stop the practice or deliver the hands along with the meat, says Inspector of Weights and Measures Haley, who has learned a lot about butchers since he went into office June 1. He is certain that housewives are charged each year for thousands of pounds of assorted butchery hands, which were weighed out during waiting, when the package was opened in the kitchen.

Also he suggests: Make the ice man weigh, before you pay. See that your grocer's scale starts at zero, unless you wish to pay for something you don't get.

When buying gasoline, make the attendant drain the hose. When buying oil, expect and demand full quart measures.

When ordering coal, notify the Inspector of Weights and Measures, Main 5560, Station 59, who will make sure the weight appearing on the ticket issued by the public weigher has not been altered by false reaching you.

Since June 1, 18 persons have been sent to court, and 16 of them convicted, for having unmarked measures and for not weighing ice.

CHILD'S SKULL FRACTURED WHEN PORCH COLLAPSED

Mother, Father and Three Other Children Are Bruised in 10-Foot Fall.

Ottola, 6-year-old daughter of John Ewertz, 2436 A. Oregon avenue, suffered a fractured skull and an injury to the left leg at 10:20 p. m. yesterday, when the rear porch at her home collapsed, causing her and five other members of the family to fall 10 feet to the first floor porch. Her mother, Catherine, 48, suffered contusions and abrasions of the arms and body; but was taken home with other members of the family after treatment at city hospital.

Ewertz, 51, and three other children, John Jr., 20; Aloysius, 13, and Peter, 15, suffered bruises. No cause for the collapse is known.

MILLINERY TRADE OF $30,000,000 ST. LOUIS' GOAL

Manufacturers and Jobbers Expect Record Season, in View of Buying Boom in Other Lines.

LEADING MARKET IN CENTRAL U. S.

Industry Here, Representing More Than 60 Firms, Draws Business From Carolina and Florida.

St. Louis millinery manufacturers and jobbers, who assert that the St. Louis market, in volume of business and smartness of styles, is second only to New York, expect to do $30,000,000 business this year.

Charles F. Zukoski, president of the Associated Millinery Industries of St. Louis, the membership of which includes some 60 firms, made this estimate today, in re-adding in common with other Washington, D. C., wholesale houses that the millinery industry is enjoying the same buying boom in the current season as other lines.

"St. Louis has become preeminent as the central millinery market of the United States," said Zukoski, who is treasurer of the Lewis-Zukoski Millinery Co. "Beginning as jobbers, the bigger firms are now manufacturers as well. This year's business is remarkable in that not only our normal trade territory shows an increase, but we are drawing business from the Carolinas and from Florida."

"More than 50 firms are engaged here in the hat trade and allied lines, such as linings, feathers, flowers and frames. With the industry throughout the country demanding better merchandise, we are not only supplying that demand, but we are furnishing experienced workmen, in trimming and designing, to the retail millinery trade."

Significant Hasagall, treasurer of the Rosenthal-Sloan Millinery Co., manufacturers of millinery and distributors of allied products, and said as the largest firm of its kind in the country, the company would do a volume of business in 1925 in excess of $6,000,000.

"We are doing more business than ever in our history," he said. "St. Louis is the best distributing center of millinery in the country. While 1924 was our record year in dollars and cents our volume of products will be greater this year. St. Louis manufacturers do not turn out as extreme styles as are produced abroad, but we do manufacture more practical styles, and which have a greater demand. Buyers are not as numerous as in former years, but they are buying often."

The explanation is that styles are changing quickly, particularly in millinery lines, and that the St. Louis market, with adequate stocks—particularly a trimmed hat, asserted his company can meet seasonal trade requirements to the special advantage of the merchant.

Growth of Industry Rapid. "Our market trade," said Joseph J. Gollubier, president of the Gollubier Millinery Co., "is running away over last year's business. In sections business is not so good, but we know that the retailers' shelves are not stocked and that they will be in the market later."

"Our business is about the same as last year," Ernst Bek, treasurer of Gollubier & Stroh Millinery Co., reported. "Ours is a dependable trade from nearby states, but we note this year a business from outside what is referred to as 'St. Louis' normal trade territory."

Inquiry among the millinery trade in St. Louis discloses an expressed pride in the industry's rapid growth. Only 10 years ago it had two wholesale millinery houses. Now it is shipping its products to China, the West Indies and other foreign countries.

Small Hat Still Favorite, but Wider Models Are Appearing. A review of the season's millinery styles, as displayed at the Fashion Pageant at the Garden Hotel, and as shown by Washington avenue houses, discloses that the small or medium hat is still the favorite, though the wider brim is again coming into vogue.

Cloth-fitting models, with crowns which come well down over the head, are the best sellers. There is the small satin hat with rolling brim in tiered effect, which has proven a hit. The satin hat of various shapes is a popular seller. It is made of broad satin, or of wide satin ribbon, sometimes with fancy ribbons.

The cloche is a good fall model. Black satin is used with colored ribbon trimming, the whole finished with a back drooping ostrich feather.

Another popular model resembles the turban. The brim fits closely to the crown, except at one side, where it flares away. It is made

Sculptured Memorial for Mrs. D. R. Francis' Grave

Mourning Figure of Heroic Size to Be Executed by George Julian Zolnay and Placed in Bellefontaine Cemetery.

A sculptured memorial to Mrs. David R. Francis, wife of the former Governor and Ambassador to Russia, is to be placed at her grave in Bellefontaine Cemetery. The model has been completed by George Julian Zolnay, former St. Louis sculptor, at his studio in Washington. It is a mourning figure of heroic size, and is to be of Vermont granite.

The time for completion and installation of the memorial is not yet known. Former Gov. Francis is expected to return about Oct. 1 from Rye Beach, N. H., where he recently recovered from a serious illness. Mrs. Francis, whose maiden name was Jane Perry, died in March, 1924.

Sculptor Zolnay is now executing a bust of Gov. Francis, similar to the one which now stands in the Missouri Historical Society collection at Jefferson Memorial. Another Francis bust, by Zolnay, is in the Art Museum. Both these buildings are memorials of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, of which Francis was president.

Relief portraits of Gov. Francis, by Zolnay, appear on memorial fountains at the University of Missouri and Washington University.

Another study of Gov. Francis in sculpture, which is of less conventional sort, and which has not yet been reproduced in permanent material, is a plaster cast by Zolnay, representing him in golf costume, and with the figure of Gov. Francis' negro attendant, Philip Jordan, teeing up the ball for him. This cast is in the possession of the Francis family.

Of black or colored, velvet, ottoman or faille for the brim and gold or other metal fabric for the stiff crown, which is smooth.

Nearly all the new crowns fit and come well down over the head. The fabric hat is a favorite. Fabrics in use are velours, batists, plush, metal, novelties, cloth of gold or silver, brocaded chiffon velvets, plushes, pannes, velours, kashas and neopoles.

Hat to match the costume is the vogue.

Youngest Out-of-Town Buyer Is 15-Year-Old Boy.

The youngest buyer here to make the seasonal fall purchases for an out-of-town store, was reported by a Washington avenue wholesale house yesterday.

Thirteen-year-old Ralph Plimmer of Springfield, Mo., was the buyer. He is the son of Harry Plimmer, dry goods merchant, carrying ladies and men's furnishings, in Springfield, Mo. Ralph, a high school student, who three years ago began to work as extra help in his father's store, came to St. Louis two weeks ago to engage in special study of show card writing and window decorating in a school conducted by another Washington avenue house.

Before leaving home, however, his father gave him a list of "wants." The young buyer then went marketing for muslins, sheetings, percales and other staples, along with shirts, sweaters and the like. The son sent his father a duplicate invoice, and the goods were received on the boy's order.

The elder Plimmer was in St. Louis yesterday. "I am not here to buy," he commented. "They tell me I don't have to go into the market. Ralph has tended to that."

Liberty, Mo., Aug. 19.—Clay County's grand jury investigation so far into the lynching Aug. 7, of Walter Mitchell, negro, at Excelsior Springs, has failed to disclose the leaders of the mob. Witnesses, testifying at the inquiry, begun yesterday, declared they saw the limb, the rope thrown over it, and the negro, but none of them was able to distinguish the mob leaders.

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—Albino Kuma, 60 years old, was found stabbed through the heart in the kitchen of his home when policemen went there in response to an anonymous telephone call. A kitchen knife was found in the hallway. Mrs. Kuma, 42, made conflicting statements and is being detained. The police attributed the slaying to jealousy and moonshine.

EXTRA LOT OF ICE LEADS TO LIQUOR RAID

Police Find Bottles of Homebrew in Process of Cooling at Carpenters' Building.

When a saloon gets what he thinks is an extra lot of ice, and half an hour later that ice has disappeared, Police Sgt. Weise knows—well, he knows some one is thirsty and maybe the tinkle of cracked ice can be heard.

That happened yesterday, when the Sergeant and a patrolman visited the saloon of John Moloney, 3026 Olive street. They heard the tinkle through a door which leads into the building of the Carpenters' District Council at No. 2024 "Homebrew" they exclaimed over the stuff they found.

That was on their return visit, after seeing the quantity of fresh ice in the saloon. They couldn't open the door, but in a few minutes the negro saloon porter, Rudolph White, opened it. The policemen reported finding in the room of the carpenters' building three buckets containing two dozen pints of the drink cooling nicely in the ice against the time when someone might become thirsty. Also, there were nine cases of the same beverage concealed under a tarpaulin.

The porter and the bartender, Thomas M. Madden, were arrested. Still found in Home, Man and Wife Arrested.

Police men besieged the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Dobbins, 4864 McKissack avenue, yesterday afternoon, until they gained permission to enter from Mrs. Dobbins and found, according to their report, an 18-gallon still, 100 gallons of mash in barrels, 10 gallons of what seemed to be whiskey in a keg and a quantity of empty crocks and bottles. Most of this was in the cellar, reached through a trapdoor.

Two policemen, passing, had smelled the mash, but Mrs. Dobbins locked the door when she saw them near. They listened intently and heard gurgling sounds in the kitchen, as if bottles were being emptied. One stood guard while the other tried in vain to get a search warrant on the basis of what they smelled and heard.

Capt. Doyle and some more policemen arrived and the Captain finally called the housewife into the opening door. Meanwhile, Dobbins came home and was arrested. Mrs. Dobbins also was arrested.

The day's watch for liquor by the police exposed various ways of hiding it, but seemed handy to saloon at Oliver William's place, 1201 Pine street, a detective found that a cigar case was movable. It was his move. He saw that the case concealed a large quantity of following charges of his misconduct with a professional model employed by him.

The couple was married in 1914, when the husband was employed as a tailor and the wife worked as a dressmaker in the day time and took evening classes at night in order that her husband, who was then only beginning the photographic which made him famous, might have a competent model.

It was pictures in which Mrs. Pondellek was the model that first attracted critics to the work done by Pondellek. She was granted $5700 and $15 a week for the support of herself and the five-year-old daughter.

JAPANESE LEARNS TO FLY AT LAMBERT

California Truck Gardener Visions Own Aviation School in Japan.

John Kubota has learned to fly, thereby earning the distinction of being the first Japanese to learn the intricacies of lops and tail spins at Lambert-St. Louis Field.

Kubota, who is 21 years old, came to America from Japan five years ago, and established himself on a small truck garden near Oakland, Cal. With thrift and the capacity for intensive effort he raised sparkling white onions and big red tomatoes that brought top prices in Oakland, and attended an Oakland High School between times.

During the five years Kubota tended his onion and tomato business he nurtured an ambition to become an aviator. Onions and tomatoes brought a harvest of American dollars, but they failed to spur the soul as did the thought of zooming skyward behind a roaring motor.

Two months ago Kubota decided his bank account had attained proportions permitting the satisfaction of his ambition. So, placing the truck garden in charge of a fellow countryman, Kubota wrote a draft on the bank account and left California for New York in search of aerial training.

In New York he chanced to speak of his ambition to a graduate of Maj. William Robertson's aviation school at Lambert-St. Louis Field. The aviator's description of his aerial alma mater was sufficiently enthusiastic to result in the little Japanese reporting at Lambert Field last month for instruction.

He proved an apt pupil according to Maj. Robertson, learning to handle a plane after five hours of flying instruction. He was "graduated" last week and immediately purchased a new standard plane, which he is now assembling. Future plans include a flight to Oakland, Kubota says, and the probable sale of the truck garden.

"And after that," the interviewer asked, "Well, maybe I'll go back to Japan and run a flying school like Maj. Robertson."

ARCHBISHOP GETS 3 YEARS IN PRISON

Five Priests Sentenced to 6 Months to 2 Years by Soviet Court.

By the Associated Press.
MINSK, Russia, Aug. 19.—Archbishop Melchisidek today was sentenced to three years' imprisonment by the Supreme Court, after conviction on charges of counter-revolutionary activities and obstructing the soviet authorities in the confiscation of church treasures in 1921.

Five priests of the Orthodox Church, who were tried at the same time, were given terms ranging from six months to two years. A huge crowd gathered for the passing of the verdict, and when the sentences were announced the Judges were cheered. The Archbishop made an extemporaneous speech, in which he termed the sentences "just and impartial."

The trial attracted general attention among Russian ecclesiastical authorities, and a special representative was sent here by the Moscow Holy Synod to watch the case.

The hope was expressed that the jacket would be used to inclose a treaty for world peace between the United States and Great Britain.

Woman Burned by Poison.
Miss Norma Harris, 29 years old, of 545 E. 11th street, was taken to City Hospital early today for treatment for burns of the mouth and chin suffered when she spilled poison when she discovered she had obtained the wrong bottle while seeking a mouth wash.

HURT SAVING WOMAN FROM SPEEDING AUTO

Thomas Tucker Knocked Down by Car, Driver of Which Leaves Scene.

Injured.
Barney Kauffmann, 77 years old, of 2914 South Thirteenth street, internal injuries, seven fractured ribs.

Mrs. Kate Schilling, 40, 7823 Michigan avenue, skull fracture, internal injuries.

Mrs. Margaret Schwartz, 64, 1325 Elliot avenue, fractured right arm, scalp cuts, possible skull fracture.

Thomas Tucker, 23, 4357 Evans avenue, cut and bruised.

Gustave Misch, 257-1530 North Thirteenth, cut and bruised.

A speeding Chevrolet sedan turned north at Newstead and Easton avenues at 9:25 o'clock last night, cutting the corner short and bearing down upon Thomas Tucker and Mrs. Anna Tebeau, both of 4357 Evans avenue, who had just stepped from the west curb of Newstead avenue. Tucker saw the automobile and gave Mrs. Tebeau a push which saved her, but was himself knocked down, suffering cuts and bruises.

One of the two men in the sedan alighted. "Are you hurt?" he asked. Tucker replied that he was.

"Is that so?" the man said, and got back in the sedan and drove away.

Had Illinois License.
Police today are tracing the Illinois license which Tucker noted as the machine drew away. The same automobile five minutes earlier, when a woman accompanied the two men, had struck an automobile driven by Donald O'Neil of 5873 Eitel avenue at West End place and Page boulevard and had failed to stop.

Woman Hurt When Auto Hits Bump in Viaduct and Overturns.
Mrs. Kate Schilling, 40, of 7823 Michigan avenue, was critically injured at 7:15 a. m. today when a Ford with a speedster body driven by her son, Edward Schilling, struck a bump near the middle of the Eighteenth street viaduct and turned turtle, pinning Mrs. Schilling underneath. She was taken to the city hospital, with a skull fracture and internal injuries. Her son was uninjured.

An automobile driven by Raymond McFarland of 2316 South Eighteenth street, struck Barney Kauffmann, 77, of 2914 South Thirteenth street at 8:30 p. m. yesterday as Kauffmann was crossing Ninth street at Dorcas street, where he is stationed as a crossing watchman for the Manufacturers' Railroad. Kauffmann suffered fractures of seven ribs, besides internal injuries, and his condition was pronounced critical at city hospital.

Mrs. Margaret Schwartz, 64, a widow, 1525-Elliot avenue, was struck by an automobile driven by W. H. Schlipf of 2685 Nebraska avenue at 8:20 p. m. yesterday at Jefferson and Park avenue and was knocked under a Jefferson avenue car which had stopped for passengers. She suffered a broken right arm, scalp injuries and a possible fracture of the skull.

Gustave Misch, 25, of 1530 North Thirteenth street, was cut and bruised at 9 p. m. yesterday, when he attempted to make a left turn from Twelfth boulevard east in Geyer avenue and his automobile collided with a northbound Cherokee car.

CIVIC CLUBS PLEDGE AID TO RAILROADS AGAINST BUSES

Organizations of 77 Cities and Towns on Frisco Lines Urge Support of Rail Service.
Sympathy for the plight of the railroads, trying to compete with buses, private cars and trucks operating on the improved highways, is expressed in a resolution that has been adopted by Chambers of Commerce and other civic organizations of 77 cities and towns on the Frisco railway line.

The largest of the cities included is Springfield, Mo., and there are 34 other Missouri communities on the list, while the remainder are in Arkansas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Mississippi and Alabama. The resolution pledges support for the railroads. It was circulated by members of the Frisco unit of the Order of Railway Telegraphers.

Pointing out how the railroads have aided in the development of the country and made possible the growth of cities through the addition of industries, the resolution urges that preference be given to the railroads over the highways for long and short haul freight, passenger and express service. This will help to maintain the rail service now operating and may make necessary additional service, it is stated.

Missouri Association Convened.
The twenty-sixth annual convention of the Union Mission Association convened yesterday at the Mission Tabernacle, 810 North Garretson avenue. The session will continue through Saturday. Services are held at 7:30 o'clock each evening.

FIVE FILE IN NEW YORK MAYORALTY CONTEST

Two Democrats, Three G. O. P. and One Socialist in Primary to Be Held Sept. 15.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—With five candidates formally in the field for Mayor, the primary fight is becoming more intense. The primary election will be held Sept. 15.

The participants in the mayoralty race as shown by the nomination petitions filed last night are:

Democrats—Mayor John F. Hylan for renomination, supported by William Randolph Hearst; State Senator James J. Walker, Tammany designee, supported by Gov. Smith.

Republicans—Frank D. Waterman, fountain pen manufacturer, designer of Republican county seal; William M. Bennett, and former State Secretary John J. Lyons, "insurgents."

Socialist—The Rev. Norman Thomas.

The Independent League, inactive Hearst political organization, came to life yesterday at the Riverside Drive home of the publisher. Resolutions were adopted supporting Hylan.

Joseph P. Wallcomb, Hylan's secretary, was elected chairman. He branded as "bunk" reports that the league would put an independent in the field, but declined to predict what his organization would do if Hylan were defeated in the Democratic primary.

Senator Walker has come out with his platform, which declares, among other things, for municipal ownership and operation of transit systems, including buses, retention of the 5-cent fare, more subways, schools and parks.

Hylan, running on his record of eight years, has charged that both Walker and the Republicans have grabbed the 5-cent fare issue for political purposes only and are obligated to the traction interests to get a higher fare. Waterman has summed up his platform in the words "subway, schools and safety," the latter referring to more adequate police protection.

ASSISTANCE GIVEN MAUD

Message From Amundsen's Schooner Says Craft Is at East Cape Waiting for Oil.

By the Associated Press.

NOME, Alaska, Aug. 19.—The gasoline schooner, 210-bon ton, Maud, dispatched from Seattle June 3, 1932, by Capt. Roald Amundsen to drift across the North Pole, had assistance when she extricated herself this summer from the ice in the Arctic Ocean, 900 miles from her goal.

A message sent by the Maud's radio caught here yesterday said: "Came clear of ice with help. Now lying at East Cape waiting for oil."

A Russian steamer is stuck in the ice and has been for some days near the Maud. It was reported at East Cape Wednesday after having been frozen in the New Siberian Islands north of Alaska since autumn.

The Maud, on instructions from Amundsen, who left the Maud off Alaska in 1932, and this summer attempted to fly to the North Pole from the Spitzbergen Islands, was to refuel from a Russian vessel and then proceed to San Francisco to be sold.

East Cape is the southern tip of Siberia on the west side of Bering Straits.

HOOPER ELECTED TO CONGRESS

Michigan Republican to Succeed the Late A. B. Williams.

By the Associated Press.

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Aug. 19.—Joseph L. Hooper, Republican, of Battle Creek, defeated Claude S. Carney, Democrat, of Kalamazoo, in the special election yesterday in the Third Congressional District, on the basis of unofficial returns.

With a few scattering precincts unreported, Hooper had a lead of 2846 votes. He will succeed the late Congressman A. B. Williams.

Man and Wife Held for Auto Theft

By the Associated Press.

WICHITA, Kan., Aug. 19.—Mr. and Mrs. Lester Decker of Charleston, Ill., were arrested here yesterday on a request from the Sheriff at Charleston, who says he holds warrants for the couple on automobile theft charges. In a telegram received by authorities, the Deckers are charged with heading a gang of automobile thieves.

U. S. Aid Offered to Japanese.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—The American Red Cross has offered to assist the Japanese Red Cross in caring for sufferers in the typhoon which struck Osaka, Kyoto and Kobe Monday. Reports indicated there was little loss of life, but that property damage might total 20,000,000 yen ($16,000,000).

POLISHES METAL

To keep nickel fittings, brass, copper and other metals bright and shining, clean them with a half-and-half mixture of water and C. C. Parsons' Household Ammonia.

Be sure to get C. C. PARSONS' Household Ammonia. It softens hard water, will not "bite" or roughen the hands, and should be used wherever you use soap and water.

At All Grocers and Department Stores.

PARSONS' HOUSEHOLD AMMONIA

For Mothers-to-be

Medical authorities agree that the health of a baby is dependent largely on the health of its mother and the nourishment supplied before birth.

To prevent your baby from having the ticks—to furnish the proper nutrition for building up a strong bone structure—drink

SALVATOR Natural Mineral Spring WATER

This sparkling mineral water contains nature's mineral salts, which help to keep mother and the little one in good health by assisting the kidneys and bladder to function properly and carry off harmful wastes, and aid in the elimination of the stomach and intestines.

For 30 years eminent physicians in all parts of the world have prescribed Salvator. It is not a laxative. It is not competing.

BANKS MAKE CHARGES AGAINST STINNES

Virtually Accuse Him of Selling Certain of His Holdings Illegally.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, Aug. 19.—Edmund Stinnes, oldest son of the late German industrial magnate and a group of powerful Berlin banks, are locked in a financial fight, the former determined to retain possession of the Aga Motor Works, a share of his father's estate, and the latter equally desperate to conserve their professional prestige.

In a single-handed fight with a half dozen financiers who proclaimed a credit boycott on him, Stinnes has succeeded in keeping public sympathy with him to an extent that has caused the banking group which is liquidating the Stinnes family holdings to issue an indictment of Edmund Stinnes as well as other members of the family, who openly are accused of having given "incorrect and insufficient information concerning the family's financial status."

Attacked in Statement.
In a statement in the German press, the banking group recites the progress of the Stinnes liquidation and virtually accuses Stinnes of having disposed of certain holdings conferred on him in a settlement with the family, which the bankers claim was illegal and which they now insist should be made retroactive.

His administration of the motor works also receives severe grilling by the bankers, who assert that no credit will be extended so long as Stinnes is in control of the plant.

Stinnes himself still is casting about for an angel who will help him finance his battle against the bankers and enable him to keep the motor works in operation.

Various newspapers comment upon the method pursued by the banking syndicate which is converting the Stinnes securities into cash. This so-called "supporting action" is developing into a profitable business for banks, says the Deutsche Zeitung, in pointing out the liberal profits harvested by the liquidating syndicate in commissions, interest charges and other emoluments which are the privilege of the banks.

Comment of Press.
The Socialist organ Vorwaerts says the only industry remaining in Germany which has not yet passed through the purging process of deflation is the banking business, which the journal declares still charges German industry interest rates that are remnants of the inflation period.

To the extent the newspaper states, the picturesque duel now going on between Edmund Stinnes and the banks has profound significance for German industry in general, which still is struggling under the burden of excessive interest rates.

CHINESE MALTREAT AMERICAN ON WHOM REVOLVER IS FOUND

Dr. D. S. Corpron Bound and Beaten by Soldiers After Weapon Was Found in Baggage.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and the Chicago Daily News, Copyright 1925. SHANGHAI, Aug. 19.—An American medical man, Dr. D. S. Corpron, of the United Christ Mission Society, stationed at Luchow, Anwei Province, was arrested by Chinese soldiers when he was found possessing a revolver in his baggage while traveling on a launch on the grand canal from Chinkiang to Tsinchiang-Pu recently.

The weapon was found when his baggage was inspected by soldiers, according to reports received here. Dr. Corpron was later released, following maltreatment on the part of the soldiers. His hands were bound behind his back; he was threatened with death, kicked and driven down a street lined with jeering mobs, and his clothes were torn.

He was refused permission to telegraph an American consul at Nanking. He was taken before a Chinese lieutenant, who refused to acknowledge an American passport despite the fact that it was newly vised. The prisoner was released only upon the commands of a superior officer. Corpron is a well-known eye, nose and throat practitioner. He had treated Chinese on the launch prior to his arrest. He explained that he carried the revolver with him as a precaution against bandits in northern Kiangsu, through which he was passing en route to the coast.

Policeman's Home Robbed.
Returning from a fishing trip, Patrolman Thomas C. Steele found burglars had looted his home, 4913 Laidlaw avenue, in his absence. A diamond ring valued at $250 and a watch inscribed, "From Mother to Tom," was taken. A suit of clothes was taken from the room of a guest at the home. Patrolman Steele offers a reward for the arrest of the burglar and recovery of the jewelry.

Girl Died From Natural Causes.
Pearl Cochran of 1103 South Eighteenth street died from natural causes, according to the findings of an autopsy and a coroner's inquest, following her death at city hospital. Remarks made by the young woman caused the hospital physicians to think that an operation had been performed, but the autopsy showed that this was not the case, and that death resulted from the bursting of a blood vessel.

M-K-T REORGANIZERS ACCEPT $1,500,000

Fees Sought Had Been Reduced $864,249 by the
I. C. C.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—The bankers who conducted the reorganization of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad Co. and their legal counsel, it has been learned, have accepted the fees allowed them by the Interstate Commerce Commission. These fees represented a cut of $864,249 from the bill presented to the road at the completion of the scaling down of its capital structure.

Following the announcement from Washington of the cut in their fees, J. and W. Seligman & Co. and Haligarten & Co., who spent nearly eight years on the reorganization of the railroad, and their attorneys, Cravath, Henderson and Degerdoff and Larkin, Rathbone and Perry, held a conference to determine the advisability of applying for a rehearing.

After the conference no statement was issued, and those present declined to comment on what had taken place.

It was learned yesterday, however, that it had been deemed unwise to question the reasonableness of the commission's allowance, and the railroad was informed that the $900,000 allowed the bankers and the $600,000 counsel fees would be accepted. The money was promptly paid out of the amount set aside for that purpose at the time of the reorganization, and the $864,249, the difference between the $2,354,249 asked for and the $1,500,000 authorized, put back into the treasury of the railroad.

EXPLAINS CALLING OF STRIKES Official Tells of Broken Agreements in Inter-Union Clash.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—George T. Thornton, acting president of the Bricklayers' Masons' and Plasterers' International Union, last night declared his organization had called strikes on building construction in several cities only after contractors and the Operative Plasterers' and Cement Finishers' International Association had broken agreements with the bricklayers. He reiterated previous charges that the inter-union conflict was caused by the invasion by plasterers of bricklayers' territory.

NOTHING TAKES THE PLACE OF LEATHER

Are Your Children Ready for School?

When school opens, so must your pocketbook. New shoes must be thought of. Good shoes for little feet in all weathers. Don't for a moment consider any shoe for girl or boy but a leather-soled welt shoe. It is by far the most economical because it can be repaired—not once but several times.

Even more important than economy is your children's health. Soft-soled, flabby shoes offer no support to tender joints and muscles. Serious foot trouble often starts in childhood through wearing incorrect shoes.

Many a cold, many a serious illness can be avoided by adequate foot protection.

NEW YORK'S ACADEMY OF MUSIC TO BE RAZED

Ancient Playhouse on Fourteenth Street May Be Replaced With Skyscraper.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—The Academy of Music, on Fourteenth street, an ancient playhouse, is to be torn down.

Actually, the Academy of Music, named to exist 15 years ago. It was then that they shifted the entrance from Irving place to Fourteenth street, built gaudy store fronts into the first floor and hung out powers and electric signs advertising the so-called silent drama.

The Consolidated Gas Co. now owns the property, and yesterday it was reported that the lease to the moving-picture corporation now in possession was not to be renewed.

At the office of George B. Cortlandt, president of the Consolidated, it was said "the situation is now in such shape that nothing can be done."

It was reported, however, that an office building is to be erected on the site.

Ancient Playhouse on Four-

The Academy of Music, on Fourteenth such shape that nothing can be done." It was reported, however, that an office building is to be erected on the site.

Famous Stars Heard There.
In New York 71 years is a long time. Fourteenth street long since has passed as a center of fashion and amusement. During the long years of its existence, singers and actors known throughout the world were heard at the Academy. Fourteenth street then was considered "up town."

The Academy was to have been the permanent home of opera in New York. Its doors were opened on the night of Oct. 2, 1853, with a performance of "Norma." The interior of the structure was burned 12 years later and refurnished.
Grand opera was heard there from 1854 to 1887—in which year the fashionable of New York began to desert the old structure for the big new Metropolitan Opera House on Broadway.
The drama succeeded the opera.
Nearly every great actor of the time strode the boards of the Academy. There was, E. A. Sothern, for one, the father of E. H.
Sothorn, destined to appear later with Julia Marlowe in Shakspear-ian repertoire. They staged "The Black Crook," "The Girl I Left Behind Me," "Old Kentucky" and many others at the Academy. And there was, of course, "The Old Homestead," which ran for more than four years—a mark that "Abe's Irish Rose" has yet to exceed.
Prince Edward a Visitor.
Soon after it was opened, in 1854, Prince Edward of England was given a great reception there. In 1918 the present Prince of Wales—his grandson—visited the scene and laughed at a screen version of "Mutt and Jeff." In the '60s the Academy was a haughty place, and looked with disdain down across at Tony Pastor's, over on Third avenue. Pastor's was the home of cheaper things.

During the '70s and '80s the Academy had something of a rival in Steinway Hall, a few doors to the west. But this, too, has gone.
For the last decade the Academy of Music has been one of the cheaper motion picture houses.

Styles for Present and All-Year-'Round Wear

☛ This is one of the most conclusive examples of our super-value-giving ability and it will undoubtedly attract large crowds from the moment the store opens. For invariably do men recognize the importance of an opportunity to buy the nationally known Society Brand Suits at a special price. This event should really surpass all others of its kind, since it presents so many more really fine Suits. The surplus yardage of the makers of Society Brand Clothes was entirely consumed in making the Suits for this sale, including thousands of yards of their splendid wools, among them rich imported Britain fabrics. . . the $60 Society Brand Suits constitute a large part of the assortment. . . and some of the Suits are silk lined. Hundreds of fellows in St. Louis and vicinity will "stock up" during this sale—the Suits are so appropriate for year-'round wear and the values are so very much out of the ordinary.

Every Suit Is a 1925 Model — Superb in Fabric, Fit and Finish—All Sizes for Men & Young Men

The models are those that have dominated the season — tailored with the inimitable distinction of Society Brand Clothes—English styling, with its graceful, loose-draping, broad shoulders, snug hips and wide trousers, together with exceptional choice of the smart light colors that young men want—as well as the conservative models for the business man.

No Exchanges
No Returns

So that the greatest number of men may share in the exceptional values offered in this sale, we shall withdraw our usual exchange and return privileges.

Sale Begins at 8:30
Thursday Morning

You are urged to attend early—before going to business, if possible—plenty of extra salesmen to serve you promptly.

Alterations Charged for

Because of the low price we are compelled to make nominal charges for alterations, covering tailor's time. However, Society Brand Clothes fit so well that few alterations are required.

Prof. Max Mason, Professor of Mathematic Physics at Wisconsin Chosen to Succeed Burton.

ON RESEARCH BOARD
DURING WORLD WAR

His New Task Will Include Campaign for $11,000,000 Building and Endowment Fund.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—Max Mason, professor of mathematical physics in the University of Wisconsin, has been elected president of the University of Chicago, succeeding the late Dr. Ernest Dewitt Burton, and has accepted the place.
Announcement of the choice was made last night at a meeting of the University of Chicago faculty.
President Mason will begin his administration Oct. 1.

The selection was made by a joint committee representing the faculty and trustees appointed after the death of President Burton last May. The trustees ratified the choice unanimously.

Prof. Mason is a Wisconsin man by birth and has passed the greatest part of his academic career at the University of Wisconsin.

Son of Pioneers.

He was born in Madison in 1877. the son of Edwin Cole Mason and Josephine Mason, pioneers in that part of Wisconsin. He graduated from the University of Wisconsin as Bachelor of Arts in 1898. During his college life he participated in the social, musical and athletic life of the students, being awarded his "W" for track work. He joined the Phi Upsilon fraternity and was a member of the two Honor societies, Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi.

He took post-graduate work at Madison; taught for a year at Be-son College, went abroad to obtain his Doctor of Philosophy degree at the University of Göttingen in 1903; returned to the United States to spend a year as instructor in mathematics at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and from 1904 to 1905 was assistant professor at Yale University, returning in the later year to Wisconsin as professor of mathematical physics.

In 1919, in recognition of his mathematical and scientific achievements, the grant of a research professorship came to him.
During the World War he was called to the service of the Government and was asked to study protection against submarines. As a result of this research he invented the Mason hydrophone for detecting and locating submarines.
As a member of the staff of the naval experimental station at New London, Conn., he developed this invention, which was used by both the American and British navies.
From 1917 to 1919 he was a member of the submarine commission of the National Research Council.

To Direct Financial Campaign.
His work as head of the University of Chicago will include a campaign for financial development, started last year. Prior to President Burton's death, the first phase of the campaign, the raising of $4,000,000 for endowment purposes, was nearing completion, but the plan also calls for the raising of more than $11,000,000 for new buildings and endowments for their maintenance.

The new president is a member of the National Academy of Sciences, the American Mathematical Society, the American Physical Society, the Deutsche Mathematiker Vereinigung and the Circolo Matematico di Palermo. His publications in the proceedings of these societies have been numerous.

His wife was Mary Freeman, daughter of a member of the Wisconsin faculty. They have two sons, 19 and 14 years old, and a daughter, 12.

Specimens Carved From Ivory.

There are 58 specimens of the finest achievement of this bantu

29 chiefs' seats of wood and ar-wooden masks and tobacco pipes of clay, wood and bronze.The bronze castings of this group rival those of Benin and their wood carvings are probably the best made in Africa. Many of these wood carvings represent paintings of chiefs' houses, such as door and window frames.The specimens are all well de-tribes, and there is no doubt that they were collected with intelli-

TO KEEP P. R. PLAN
FOR CITY COUNCILCity Refuses to Discard Proportional Representation System in Choosing Legislative Body.METHOD IS OPPOSITE TO THAT OF ST. LOUISCouncilmen Elected by Districts, Ballots Being Counted for First, Second and Lesser Choices.

By the Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 19.—The city of Cleveland has voted to keep the P. R. plan.The city is not a person. It is a system, most easily described to St.
Louisans by saying that it is opposite of the system by which St.
Louis chooses its legislative body.Proportional representation is the full name of the plan which was placed in effect in Cleveland four years ago, and which the voters of that city, at a special election Aug. 11, refused to discard.Cleveland has 25 Councilmen, elected by districts, two or three Councilmen to each district. In each district voters have the privilege of designating 10 choices for the Council, and the votes are counted for first, second, third and lesser choices in the order given.Such effective use was made of the system that in the election of two years ago only 10 choices were counted for first, second, third and lesser choices in the order given.

Methods Contrasted.

St. Louis, electing its Aldermen on a straight ticket and for the city at large, has 28 Republican Aldermen, and has had them ever since the present system was introduced in 1914. Cleveland, in the election of 1923, chose 14 Republicans, seven Democrats and four men running as independents, under the operation of P. R. More than 300 candidates ran in the various districts, a petition with a certain number of signatures being the only requirement.P. R. does away with primaries and conventions for the selection of candidates for the legislative body.
The limitation upon P. R. is that it applies to the method of electing legislative bodies. It would not serve in the election of a Mayor or any official who serves singly. It could be used in electing groups of Judges, but its fundamental idea would not apply, as representation is exercised through legislative officers, not judicial ones.

Cleveland Editorial.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer, in an editorial printed before the recent special election, said:It cannot escape any voter's attention that practically without exception the men conspicuously advocating the rejection of P. R. are organization party men. They have trained with the leaders of one party or the other. Many of them have had important offices by virtue of their party fealty. To their natural inclination to be regular in the party sense is added a feeling of obligation to partisans and partisan leaders who at one time or another in the past have given them preference.We do not question the motives of these opponents of proportional representation. We merely identify them.Under proportional representation, as has been demonstrated, each group in the voting population gets exactly the representation in the council to which its numbers in the city entitle it. Among these groups, of course, are the Democratic and Republican parties.
The local Democratic chief and the local Republican chief will each have the number of spokesmen that corresponds to his success in the polls.

"Seek Something for Nothing."

These party chiefs want an election system which will permit them not the same but a larger measure of control in the council than their popular strength entitles them to.
They seek something for nothing.
They want a system that can be manipulated by one means or another. They want to eliminate independent men. They want the way clear for party fusion when fusion is convenient and for a mock battle when popular psychology seems to require a fight.These professional party men, now staking their all on the defeat of P. R. Tuesday, are asking the voters of Cleveland to present them with a power at the City Hall that they cannot win in a fair fight.
They propose to oust proportional representation because it interferes with their old game of manipulating government to serve the parties.The present St. Louis city charter, Article II, Section 9, says:
"Whenever it may be done in harmony with the State Constitution and laws, the Board of Aldermen may provide by ordinance for nonpartisan nominations, preferential voting or proportional representation."THE LAST RITES FOR JESSE

CHAPTER XXXIII.

The days following the assassination, St. Joseph was rife with stories of rich local color about the slain bandit. Mr. Howard, the preceding winter, had entertained the Ferrell girls at 1320 Lafayette street, adjoining his home, by playing with them at snow-balling. He was an expert marksman with a snowball, and when one of the girls hit him with a snowy missile he took it with good nature. "I thought like a schoolboy," the girls recalled.Mr. Howard was a regular customer of August Brokaw, a druggist on Lower Sixth street. He became a warm favorite there. He bought cigars to give to his friends —including the Fords. Nearly every day he would sit in the drug store and tell stories—clean ones, stories with points. He told Brokaw he was a railroad man out of a job. The drugist promised to get him a railroad job. Undoubtedly Mr. Howard laughed, up-sleeve, at this. After all, and after a fashion, Jesse enjoyed life. Maj.
Edwards wrote, comparing the two brothers: "Jesse laughed at many things, Frank laughed not at all.
Jesse was light-hearted, reckless, devil-may-care; Frank was sober, sensible, a splendid man always for ambush or scouting parties. Both were undaunted."Mr. Howard liked to play billiards. Late one night, after a game in a St. Joseph billiard hall, another player remarked to him that he was afraid to go home alone—he might be held up and robbed. Mr. Howard volunteered to escort the fearsome citizen home. At the man's door he called out in a loud voice:Under caption of "Worthy of Notice," the Gazette said on April 6:
"It is positively known that Jesse James attended the Sunday services at the Presbyterian Church, opposite the World's Hotel, repeatedly.
Last Sunday he was seen with his entire family at the Union Depot, viewing the improvements."The same newspaper stated that rain fell peacefully as Mrs. Jesse James and Mrs. Zerelda Samuel were removing the effects from the house after the funeral. Some of the effects had been removed by the officials. These included a watch, a pair of cuff buttons, a diamond ring, a gold ring, a breast-pin, a pair of cuff buttons, a pin with initials "J. W. J." on it—and one of Mrs. James' stockings. The property was returned to the family.Now, by this roundabout route, we approach the funeral and first burial of Jesse James. A St. Joseph dispatch of April 5 to theKansas City Times said: "Craig and Timberlake, the principal men who engineered Jesse's capture (also) have been delayed and obstructed all day by the St. Joseph officials, through jealousy. The special train has been waiting since 10 a. m. to take the body, but the City Marshal would not give it up. The body was not secured until 5 p. m., and taken quietly to the depot where Sheriff Timberlake's party prepared to go out on the regular train to Cameron. From there they go by a special to Kearney. Jesse's widow, children and mother accompany the remains. They are very nervous. The body is in a $500 coffin furnished by Craig and Timberlake."

The funeral train.

The Times correspondent wrote that
a "perfect mob was at the depot to see the party off." Mrs.
Samuel insisted that she be taken to the baggage car to see the body put on the train. Timberlake and his party sat in the baggage car as guards.Mrs. James was accompanied by Luther James, a cousin of Jesse's, from Kansas City. While in the depot at St. Joseph, a short, thick-set man tried to pull a pistol on Mrs. Samuel, but was promptly thrust out of the door and landed in the street. He was shot at, but not hit.At all stations along the road, crowds gathered, anxious to see the body, the family, the officers, or anything, and great excitement prevailed. We arrived at Cameron at 9:11 p. m. and were met by an immense crowd. The ladies were taken to a private room at the depot while waiting for the train, and the body was taken from the baggage car, followed by a mob who stood
around the windows, eager to catch a glimpse of the pine box that enveloped the coffin. Mrs. Samuel and Mrs. James are very much worried. A dispatch received here by Mrs. Samuel says her youngest son is dying at home."There was delay in getting the special train, but at last it came,
and the party departed at midnight
for Kearney. The train was furnished by officials of the Rock Island Railroad. It will be remembered that it was a train of the Rock Island system that suffered in the first train robbery, nearlynine years earlier. It is surmisable that the officials of that line were glad to extend this final courtesy.
The train reached Kearney at 2:45 a. m. The baggage car that carried the corpse was sidetracked.
The rest of the rolling stock pulled out to continue traffic on the eastern Rock Island. Mrs.
Samuel, worried and worried, hastened out to the farmhouse to reach the bedside of John Samuel, her son, a youth of 20, who had been shot in a scrimmage at a neighborhood "party" a few nights earlier. He was believed to be dying, but he recovered. At this writing Mrs. Samuel is living at Long Beach, Cal.

Jesse Lies in State.

The casket was placed upon two chairs in the office of the Kearney House, the small local hotel.
After daylight the lid was removed. Throughout the forenoon the body of Jesse James "lay in state" in his old home town. Many persons passed by to view the dead face, the folded hands. Old acquaintances said the corpse "looked natural." Hundreds of oldtime residents saw Jesse for the first time. Some Kearneyites said they had seen him before but had been unaware of his interesting identity.Funeral services were held in the afternoon at the Kearney Baptist Church of which Jesse had been a member. The pallbearers were five local men and a mysterious stranger. Nobody seemed to know this man, who appeared to be somewhat in authority.But it was a stout man, and Frank James was slender. Two clergymen took part in the services, which opened with the singing of "What Friend We Have in Jesus," a hymn sung frequently by Jesse in boyhood and when he was a church member—and probably after he was "excluded."The Rev. R. H. Jones, of Lathrop, Mo., read the passage from the Book of Job beginning "Man that is born of woman is of few days and full of trouble." He read also two verses from the Thirty-ninth Psalm, beginning, "Lord, make me to know mine end."

After a fervent prayer by the Rev. Mr. Jones, the funeral sermon was preached by the Rev. M. P.

Martin, pastor of the church. His text was Matthew 24:44, "Therefore be ye ready, for in such an hour as ye think not the Son of man cometh." He said, by way of introduction, "It would be useless for me to bring any new information before this congregation respecting the life and character of the deceased." That was his sole allusion to the dead man. The sermon was an appeal to all present to bear in mind the transitory nature of the earthly pilgrimage and to be ready for the ultimate and inevitable transition.In closing, Pastor Martin stated that Mrs. Samuel wished him to request those present refrain from going out to the farm, where interment was to take place. John Samuel, he said, was lying very low, and as the grave was quite near the house it was feared that the gathering of a crowd might affect the patient seriously. "It is therefore requested that none but friends and relatives go to the grave."

Jesse Buried in Yard.

When the cortege reached the Samuel farmhouse a considerable number of country folk had gathered there. All were quiet and respectful, as befitted the solemn occasion. Jesse James was buried in a corner of the yard, on the premises where he was born, where his mother could look from her windows upon the mound at the foot of a big coffee bean tree. Mrs.
Samuel planted flowers upon the grave, and for 20 years she tended them with affectionate care. A tall white marble monument was erected there, on which the mother had the inscription carved:In loving remembrance of my beloved son JESSE W. JAMES.
Died April 5, 1882.
Aged 24 years, 8 months, 21 days.

"The Rise and Fall of Jesse James"

Under the shade of this old coffee bean tree, in the yard of the old homestead, the body of Jesse James rested for 20 years.

The funeral train.

The Times correspondent wrote that
a "perfect mob was at the depot to see the party off." Mrs.
Samuel insisted that she be taken to the baggage car to see the body
his party sat in the baggage car as guards.Mrs. James was accompanied by Luther James, a cousin of Jesse's, from Kansas City. While
in the depot at St. Joseph, a short,
thick-set man tried to pull a pistol
thrust out of the door and landed
in the street. He was shot at, but
not hit.At all stations along the road,
crowds gathered, anxious to see the
body, the family, the officers, or
anything, and great excitement prevailed. We arrived at Cameron at 9:11 p. m. and were met by an immense crowd. The ladies were taken to a private room at the depot
while waiting for the train, and the body was taken from the baggage
around the windows, eager to catch
a glimpse of the pine box that enveloped the coffin. Mrs. Samuel
worried. A dispatch received here by Mrs. Samuel says her youngest son is dying at home."There was delay in getting the
special train, but at last it came,
and the party departed at midnight
for Kearney. The train was furnished by officials of the Rock Island Railroad. It will be remem-
Rock Island system that suffered in the first train robbery,

CATHEDRAL CREATION ARCH IS COMPLETED

Mosaic Depict Biblical Story of World's Beginning.

A second bare concrete arch under the great dome of the Catholic cathedral of St. Louis has been transformed with mosaic into a shrine of beauty and religious significance. Through the years the edifice slowly approaches completion, though the shell and first embellishments have been there, for, long.

This is the arch of creation, on the east side of the dome and the arch of the nave, depicting the church's conception of the work of God, the Father. Essentially the mosaic on it in mosaic tell the biblical story of creation, as related in Genesis.

The commanding figure at the top center of the arch is that of God enthroned. On His right is the archangel Gabriel; on His left is the archangel Michael. The feet of the archangel Michael are at each of the lower corners of the arch, respectively, the six Biblical days of creation—the genesis of light, the firmament, the waters and land, the heavenly bodies, fish and fowl, and of animals and man.

Eight choirs of angels, lesser than the surrounding archangels, are dispersed between the other figures, rising on both sides of the arch. As in the triumphal arch, depicting the nave from the north corner of the dome, the arch of creation gleams with gold mosaic. Other colors are numerous in the work.

The figure of God, a bust, measures seven feet from top to base and is the tip of the patriarchal head. The figures of the angels are greater than human size. For each day of the creation there is a large circular panel, running in order from the lower right to the upper left side. First is a collection of bright rays, for light; then futuristic design indicative of the firmament; next, vegetation, symbolic of the earth. The sun, moon and stars are shown in the fourth panel; the fifth has a great fish in water with white birds above; the last, portraits Adam and Eve, hand in hand.

The triumphal arch, which was completed last November, depicts the work of the church throughout the ages. The two remaining arches are expected to be covered with mosaic by Christmas. That on the west will be the arch of sanctification, by grace and truth; that on the south will be the arch of the new judgment, depicting the church from the servants of God.

The last of the four chapels at the four corners of the cathedral is to be put on the way to completion soon, and may be done by Christmas. This is the Chapel of St. Louis, at the southeast corner of the edifice. An anonymous gift by a layman was obtained recently to meet the cost, about $85,000.

Ceiling of Mosaic.
At present this chapel is unroofed. Its marble floor is bare, with a funeral slab before the altar space inscribed, "Requiescat in Pace." The altar, which will be marked chiefly by a large statue of the Savior, with outstretched arms, is being designed in Munich, Germany. Black and white marble in bold lines will distinguish the walls, while the ceiling is to be of mosaic, with these problems typical of death and eternal life. A caterpillar and butterfly, a phoenix, and a winged sandal, emblematic of extreme unceasing. On panels will be the coats of arms of four former heads of the diocese, Bishop Rosati, Coadjutor-Bishop Ryan, Archbishop Riedel and Archbishop Kain.

Much decorative work has been finished in the Cathedral in recent months. Outstanding are the fresco murals in the half-domes on the east and west of the great dome. That on the east pictures the resurrection and that on the west the ascension. The soft, blue and white tones of the murals are painted with figures related to those of the half-domes. The mosaic under the balcony of the nave, on both sides, depicting the story of the beatitudes, has been finished. In blue seems to stand out brightly.

70,000,000 Bits of Mosaic.
It is calculated that about 70,000,000 bits of mosaic are needed, and that 100,000 to 150,000 square feet, to cover the dome eventually. After the completion of the great dome, the two pendentives flanking them will be transformed with mosaic figures centering about the throne of God. This work alone may cost perhaps $250,000.

Social Activities

RETURNING FROM ABROAD

SOMETHING different, in which the members are invited to join, is the splash party, which the Century Boat Club will give Sunday morning, from 8:30 to 10 o'clock. The swimming party, which is complimentary, each member receiving two admission tickets, will be held at the Coliseum Swimming Pool. At the conclusion of the party, the guests will proceed to the Century Boat Club, where breakfast will be served. Members are asked to make their reservations for the breakfast in advance, as a large number of guests are expected. Because of the Sunday morning festivities, the usual Saturday evening music program will be omitted Aug. 22.

TEN-ACT VAUDEVILLE SHOW FOR ICE FUND

David Russell Characterizes
Bill to Be Given at Orpheum Saturday as "Headliner."

"A ten-act bill of vaudeville headliners" is the way David E. Russell, Municipal Theater director, describes the show to be given at the Orpheum Theater next Saturday evening for the benefit of the Post-Dispatch Free Ice for Babies' Milk Fund. Unlike the majority of benefit performances, staged and directed by old workers for the Ice Fund, Saturday's show will be composed entirely of professional vaudeville talent, recruited by Russell for the one-night appearance in the interest of the babies.

Use of the Orpheum Theater with all its attaches has been given without cost for the fifth annual Orpheum show, an orchestra under the direction of Frank Panus is being donated by the Musicians Mutual Benefit Association, signs advertising the affair have been printed gratis by the Banner Sign Co., tickets supplied by Weldon, Williams & Lick, Fort Smith, Ark., and numerous other friends of the babies are assisting in preparations for the show, the entire proceeds of which will go to the Ice Fund.

Former Judge Karl Kimmel of the Circuit Court is managing the distribution of tickets through the serving of summonses to the "Court of Humanity" among business and professional men. The admission price is $1, and additional tickets may be secured at the Hotel Statler cigar stand or the Orpheum Theater box office, where the reserved seat sale has commenced.

Those who attend this complimentary opening of the Ninth street playhouse are assured that their ticket purchase will serve a two-fold purpose in providing an evening of unusual vaudeville entertainment, at the same time benefitting the babies who are dependent upon the Ice Fund for assistance during the summer season.

To observe Feast of St. Louis The feast of St. Louis of France will be observed at the Old Cathedral, at 19 a. m. Sunday, Aug. 30, with a mass, celebrated by the Rev. George J. Donnelly, and a sermon by the Rev. Dr. Martin O'Malley of Kenrick Seminary.

KIN OF FORMER ST. LOUISAN BURIED AT SEA ARE SOUGHT

Records of John Burns, Formerly Hurt on Boat, Give Two Birthplaces.

Relatives of John Burns, formerly of St. Louis, who died from an accidental injury sustained on a British cattle boat March 21, last, are being sought by the State Department in Washington.

The American Consul in London was informed by the British Board of Trade that Burns, who was about 53 years old, signed on the steamer Denham at Norfolk, Va. in one record his birthplace appears as St. Louis, and in another as Belleville, Ill. Death was caused by an accident which broke his spinal column, and he was buried at sea.

"The legal representatives of deceased," a death notice printed here says, "can obtain further information by applying to the Department of State, Washington." Inquiry there by a Post-Dispatch correspondent did not show whether he left any estate of value.

ANTONIO BAFUNNO, FORMER ORCHESTRA LEADER HERE, DIES

Expire in New York—Funeral to Take Place in St. Louis Saturday Morning.

The funeral of Antonio Bafunno, former St. Louis orchestra leader, will be held at 9:30 a. m. Saturday at St. Charles Borromeo Church, Locust boulevard and Ewing avenue. He died yesterday in Flushing, N. Y., of apoplexy.

Bafunno, who was musical director of the Princess, now Rialto, and the Park, now Pershing, theaters, removed to New York 12 years ago, and in recent seasons was musical director of Ed Wynn's productions. A widow and daughter survive him. He was a nephew of the late Antonio Bafunno, whose band played for years at the Fair Grounds racetrack.

ZIEGFELD'S LONDON FOLLIES
Theater Modeled After New Amsterdam to Be Built for Show.

Copyright, 1925, by Press and Publishing Co., New York City, and the Post-Dispatch.

DEAUVILLE, Aug. 19.—Florenz Ziegfeld, American theatrical producer, has completed arrangements for producing a London "Follies" to "glorify the English girl."

Capt. Benjamin Hicks is to build a theater for the production, seating about 1900 and modeled after the New Amsterdam in New York, on a site on Piccadilly Circus. It will be completed in 14 months. Ziegfeld says French girls have the best figures, while the English are beautiful but too slim.

800 WORKERS SHARE $250,000 LEFT BY LORD NORTHCLIFFE

Beneficiaries Include Practically Every Householder in Three Paper Mill Towns.

By the Associated Press.
ST. JOHN, Newfoundland, Aug. 19.—Eight hundred beneficiaries, which include practically every householder in the paper mill towns of Great Falls, Milltown and Badgerbrook, all founded by the late Lord Northcliffe, have received a share in the $250,000 fund which the publisher willed to his Canadian workmen.

Resident directors and managers of the Northcliffe Paper Mills each received $5000 and the workmen got the equivalent of three months' wages, with interest from the date of the publisher's death, three years ago. Lord Northcliffe founded the three towns about 20 years ago.

THE MIRROR OF PUBLIC OPINION

This column is designed to reproduce without bias the latest comment by the leading publicists, newspapers and periodicals on the questions of the day.

SCOOTING A NEW MENACE

from the Baltimore Evening Sun.
GEORGE HORACE LORIMER, editor of the Saturday Evening Post, which to say one of the most exalted of American publicists, returns from Europe asserting that modern French art and decoration is saturated with bolshevistic influences. The thrilling distinction between art and decoration that Mr. Lorimer appears to have we are compelled regrettably to dismiss for the moment on account of a discovery still more thrilling. Mr. Lorimer appears, has traced bolshevism into painting, sculpture and bric-a-brac.

Here, now, is something to rival the famous exploits of the State Department, which we were firmly persuaded, could see bolshevism pass a given point in less time than any other agency on earth. The State Department can see bolshevism in any strange places; but not even the State Department, so far as we know, has ever detected communistic theories in a rug, discovered a potential proletarian dictator in landscape, or accused a divan of advocating vocational representation.

A merely negative attitude in the face of a menace will never do. The most efficient method of combating evil has ever known to drive it out with good. If French art and decoration are saturated with bolshevism, our manifest destiny is to develop art and decoration saturated with other influences.

We therefore suggest legislation, modeled on the Tennessee anti-evolution law, forbidding the introduction into American homes any furniture that denies the tenets of evangelical denominations, any paintings that are not soundly capitalistic, and any rugs or other floor coverings that are not woven by stout Republicans.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 19.—

WOMAN ATTACKED AND GORED BY DEER

Maryland Resident, a Semi-Invalid, Charged by Frightened Animal in Tourist Camp.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CHESTERTOWN, Md., Aug. 19.— Miss Madge Crawford, 24 years old, was attacked and seriously injured by a deer while walking alone in a tourist camp, midway between here and Tolchester Beach, yesterday.

Miss Crawford is a member of a prominent Eastern shore family.
For some years she has been a semi-invalid and slightly lame.
The tourist camp in which she was walking is a privately owned reservation. Recently a park stocked with deer and other game was leased by the owners of the camp.

Miss Crawford was strolling through a grove of trees, when she came upon the deer. The animal was frightened for a moment. Then it lowered its antlers and charged at her. One of the prongs penetrated the woman's breast.

Automobilists encamped on the reservation heard the woman's screams. It was some time before they were able to find her. She did not lose consciousness, although the animal had gored her several times.

CONTRACT LET FOR NEW CITY RESERVOIR FOR $1,160,000

Bid of $72,000 Lower of Missouri Engineering and Construction Co. Rejected.

The Missouri Engineering and Construction Co., which was organized to bid on the construction of the 100,000,000-gallon reservoir of the new waterworks, and which, though making the lowest bid, failed to get the contract, has not announced whether it will contest the award, made yesterday by the Board of Public Service to the Prazier-Davis Construction Co., second lowest among the 20 bidders.

The bid of the Missouri Engineering and Construction Co., which the board rejected yesterday, was for $1,088,610.10, while the Prazier-Davis bid was more than $72,000 higher, being $1,160,808.

In rejecting the Missouri company bid, the board held that the company was not "responsible" in the full meaning of the charter provision, which requires letting of work to the lowest responsible bidder. It appears that the company was sufficiently financed, the board said, but the practical experience of its officers, in contracting work, was not considered sufficient.

SIX MORE INDICTED IN CHICAGO NARCOTIC INQUIRY

Attorneys for Suspended Official Seek to Quash Warrant Under Which Place Was Searched.

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—Indictments in the narcotic investigation were returned by the Federal grand jury yesterday. It was disclosed today. Kittle Gilhooley, in whose apartment a few weeks ago Federal raiders asserted they found narcotic drugs and equipment valued at $144,000, and her missing husband, Willie, were among those named.

The others indicted were Max Ebler, George Ebler, Ralph Madis and Harry Goldman.
The indictment charged conspiracy, the names "Willie Gilhooley" and "Kitty Gilhooley" were referred to in the indictment as assumed by Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Bennett.

Col. Will Gray Beach, Anti-narcotic Chief for Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky, and three of his subordinates were suspended recently after special intelligence agents took them into custody and accused them of trafficking with drug peddlers and thieves.

A determined fight was begun today by counsel for Col. Beach and his three agents to quash, as an illegal proceeding, the search warrant under which Beach's personal property was seized and examined.

THREE BOYS KILLED BY TRAIN

Caddies of Kansas City Golf Club Confused by Whistle.

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 19.—Three high school boys, caddies at the Hilcrest Golf Club, were killed late yesterday when struck by a Kansas City Southern passenger train in Swope Park here.

The youths, Richard Misner, 15 years old; Sam Soglin, 16 years old, and John Gilbert, 16 years old, were walking along the Missouri Pacific Railroad tracks where they paralleled the Kansas City Southern tracks at a curve in the park. The whistle of the approaching train apparently confused them and they leaped onto the Kansas City Southern train in the path of the speeding train.

COTTON BOLLS OPENING IN MISSOURI FIELDS

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., Aug. 19.

Open cotton bolls are being opened fully three weeks ahead of time and unless some calamity befalls are the harbingers of the biggest cotton crop this section has ever known. The indications are present being that the crop for the Southeast Missouri district will be around 250,000 bales. We have had some dry weather, which while it has had the effect of checking the growth of the plant to some extent, has caused it to put on an extra heavy load of fruit, which up to the present writing is showing very little signs of shedding. Stands, except in a few isolated areas are practically perfect and the dry weather has enabled the farmers to keep up thorough cultivation and thereby minimize the cost of hoeing.

DR. HORTON TO SEEK WRIT

TO ENJOIN HEALTH BOARD

Hearing on Charges Against Purdy,

Mo., Physician Scheduled to Be Held Here, Sept. 17.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 19.—

Assistant Attorney-General Caruthers was notified yesterday by counsel for Dr. B. Horton of Purdy, Mo., that suit would be filed to enjoin the State Board of Health from conducting a hearing at St. Louis,

Sept. 17, into charges against Horton, who has been cited to show cause on that date why his medical license should not be revoked, because of alleged fraud in his application for the license.

Additional charges may be filed against Dr. Horton by James R. Page, attorney for the Kansas City College of Medicine and Surgery, who possesses 14 letters written by Dr. Horton to medical students seeking licenses to practice in Missouri. These students charge they paid Horton sums of money to aid them in appearing before the board to take examinations for licenses. Dr. Horton told them, Page said, that he had influence with Dr. Cortez F. Enloe, member of the Board of Health and also Director of Penal Institutions. Page and Dr. James Stewart, Secretary of the Board of Health, conferred here yesterday. Stewart has granted Page permission to present any evidence he may have against Dr. Horton tending to show unprofessional conduct.

Hair She Will Love to Stroke!

A bald head is never stroked—it's patted. And what man cares for pats. Even if only a small bald spot, she'll miss on her stroke and give it a bit of a jab. Men who resent this style of caress should give heed to the opportunity afforded by the Thomas System to cover their heads with real, strokeable, lovable hair.

It's amazing, the success of the Thomas treatment. Perfected five years ago, it has brought the joy of abundant hair to thousands of doctors, lawyers, preachers, bankers, merchants and clerks of all sorts.

Baldness is of germ origin. The first stage is dandruff, then the itching and finally the falling hair. Frequently all three are noticeable at the same time. Washes and tonics may relieve temporarily, but the evil day of a shiny pate is inevitable, unless the cause be removed.

Warning! Don't wait for the bald spot to start. Attend to your dandruff, itching and falling hair now.

We diagnose your case without charge. You have nothing to pay or to lose to learn what can be done to save your hair or to grow it back for you.

Hunter's Arm Shot Off.
POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., Aug. 19.—George Bliskey, young farmer, is in a serious condition in a hospital here as a result of having his right arm shot off accidentally. The young man had leaned his gun against a tree while trying to twist a rabbit from a hollow log. His dog ran against the gun, knocking it over and discharging it.

The Universal Response to Music

Not all have arrived at the Bach-Beethoven-Brahms state of appreciation, but wherever a sincere interest has been created in music, it can be developed through the musical equipment of the home—and a home where music dwells is a happy one, for growing youngsters as well as the older folks delight in the familiar melodies of "popular" music as well as the immortal efforts of Chopin, Wagner, Tchaikowsky, Liszt and others.

The sweet strains of the harp, the lilting notes of the flute, the efforts of the great masters of the piano and violin are yours with the ownership of the player-piano and the phonograph. The stars of grand opera, the latest musical comedy—everything from Mendelssohn to Berlin are instantly before you. You select your own program.

Have you ever considered how easy it is to own a musical instrument—to bring the joys of music into your home? The advertising columns of the Post-Dispatch offer you a real service in selecting musical instruments—attractive opportunities to make your selection economically from the leading Musical Instrument houses.

Reading the musical instruments advertisements in the Post-Dispatch regularly is a wise guide to the right selection—a key to the widest choice and the best values.

The Post-Dispatch carries far more Musical Instrument Advertisements than ALL other St. Louis newspapers COMBINED.

15 YEARS AFFLICTED—TOOK MY TREATMENT ON RECOMMENDATION OF A FRIEND—READ FOLLOWING LETTER:

Mr. T. J. Adams, Flat River, Mo., had suffered with piles and fissure for 15 years. Cured—now sound and well. Mr. Adams, like many others, had tried doctors and everything he heard of, but he thought might cure him, but failed. He was recommended to take my treatment by a friend whom I had cured. When he came, he was suffering with great pain. I treated him, and he began to get better at once—went back to work the next day. Flat River, Mo., July 30, 1925.

Dr. C. Matthew Coe, 501 Pine St., St. Louis, Mo.
Dear Dr. Coe:—When I went to your office to see you I had suffered with piles and fissure for 15 years. Now I am a well man, thanks to you. You have cured me sound and well. I had piles for 15 years, at times so bad I could not work. I tried other doctors and everything I heard of, but nothing did me any good. A friend told me of you and what you did for him. So I thought I would give you a trial. I was suffering great pain when I went to your office. You gave me a treatment then and I began to get better right away. I went back to my work the next day, and haven't been off a day since, and that was two years ago.

NINE SUITS AGAINST MILLSAUGH'S BOND

Actions Grow Out of the Failure of the Bank of Waynesville, Mo.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch, JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 19.—Nine suits to recover on the $25,000 bond of former State Finance Commissioner Frank C. Millsaugh, charging Millsaugh with neglect of duty in connection with the failure of the Bank of Waynesville, Mo. Jan. 2, 1924, have been filed in Pulaski County Circuit Court at Waynesville.

Each petition is filed in the name of a depositor who lost money in the bank crash. The suits are identical, except for the plaintiffs, and ask that the $25,000 be allowed the bank, and that the petitioners' claims be paid out of that sum. The Fidelity and Casualty Co., New York, which is on Millsaugh's bond, is named co-defendant with him.

Docketed for September. The suits are docketed for the September term of court. Copies of the petition were served here on the State Insurance Department, which had supervision over Millsaugh.

The depositors, whose claims aggregate $4765, charge that Millsaugh's examiners went over the bank's books twice in 1923 and that Millsaugh failed "faithfully and impartially" to carry out the law and neglected to perform his duty by allowing the bank to continue to operate when its capital was impaired.

The capital stock was $50,000, the surplus $5000 and total deposits, $258,000, according to its last official statement. It carried $14,000 of State funds. The bank originally was closed in 1921, following the suicide of its cashier, L. B. Bell, but was reopened later in that year.

The nine plaintiffs, and the amounts of their claims, are: F. C. King, $878; F. M. Wilkerson, $1461; S. J. Creacy, $1356; E. A. Jewell, $1232; C. R. Cox, $1159; H. L. Mitchell, $446; Homer Handcock, $366; Mrs. J. F. King, $228; Ruth Handcock, $50.33. The law firm of Vernon and Donnelly filed the suits.

Last June the defunct Republic National Bank of St. Louis made Millsaugh and the American Trust Co. co-defendants in a suit for damages, and for $80,774 fees received by the American Trust Co. for liquidation of the Republic National. The suit charged the forced liquidation was due to a conspiracy between the defendants and unnamed persons.

FISHING TRIP CAUSES ARREST OF MAN FOR NONSUPPORT

Former Wife Says Violinist's Journey Shattered "No Funds" Excuse.

The fish were biting at Loomis Landing, near Wellston, Mich., and Louis F. Stocker, who laid aside his violin for a trot line, was in no mood to hurry back to St. Louis. But his former wife sent a policeman there to accompany him home. Stocker, 38, a violinist, residing at 771A Aubert avenue, arrived here last night and gave bond to answer a charge of nonsupport preferred by his divorced wife, Mrs. Eleanor Stocker, 4712A Cote Brilliante avenue. The case came up before Judge Gayer today, and was continued to Sept. 1.

When his wife obtained a divorce last January she also got custody of their 13-year-old son, Louis, and $50 a month for his support. The money was paid until June, when Stocker, who formerly played at Loew's State Theater, informed her he was without employment and funds. She accepted his excuse, she told the prosecuting attorney, until she learned a few days ago that he had funds to take himself and another son, Marvin, 17, on the fishing trip.

EIGHT MORE PAROLES FROM REFORMATORY ARE REVOKED

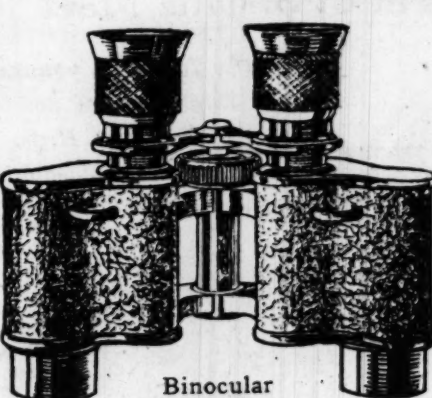

Two Young Men Mentioned by Authorities at Booneville Arrested by Police.

Police have received notice from the Booneville Reformatory of the revocation of eight more paroles granted young men from St. Louis. Several days ago 19 paroles were revoked after it was found that the conditions had been violated. Last night police arrested two young men mentioned, at their homes. They were George P. Gerhardt, 29 years old, of 3927 Shandosh avenue, and Thomas Butler, 20 years old, of 2002 North Thirtieth street. Gerhardt was sentenced to 5 years in the reformatory March 16, 1921, for robbery, and served 11 months of the time. His parole was to run until March, 1926. Butler was sentenced to 2 years in January, 1924, for burglary, and was paroled six months ago. His parole period was to run until January, 1926. The six other young men named by the Booneville authorities are being sought by the police.

Thief Takes $20 and Diamond. A sneak thief entered the beauty parlor of Mrs. W. H. Haues, 226A Collinsville avenue, East St. Louis, yesterday afternoon, and while Mrs. Haues and her assistant, Miss Connie Fraser, were in an adjoining room, stole $9 from the purse of the former, and $20 and a $150 diamond ring from the purse of Miss Fraser.

Browns' Victory Reduces Lead
Of Athletics to One Game

Sisler's Men Count Five Runs in First Inning Off Jack Quinn and Stan Baumgartner — Lamotte's Two-Bagger in Seventh Scores Two Runs.

By Herman Wecke.
The Philadelphia Athletics may not win the American League pennant this season. But if beaten, the Washington Senators or the club that turns the trick will know it has been a fight. For "fight" is one of the best things the Athletics do on the ball field. They scrap for every ball game until the last batter is retired.

That was evinced in the first of the series with the Browns, when the Athletics were defeated, 7-6, and the lead of the Philadelphia club cut to a single game.

But those docile White Elephants of other years—and real White Elephants they were in the eight years that Mack chaperoned tailenders—did not give up without a fight. They battled to the last ditch, but they could not overcome two rallies put on by the Browns.

Uphill All the Way.
A greater part of the distance the Philadelphia fans were fighting with their backs to the wall. They started off five runs to the bad, the men of Sisler putting over that many tallies in the first round as the result of a batting assault against Jack Quinn and Stanwood Baumgartner and two fielding breaks by the pennant chasers.

In the years when Mack was leading his tailenders around the circuit that would have been the ball game. It would have been but a matter of course to finish out as the major-league rules decreed. However, that was not the case yesterday.

Those Athletics, with a chance to get into the world's series, fought harder than ever. Manager Mack made numerous changes. He sent in one pitcher after another. He sent up pinch hitters. And after the Philadelphia had taken their sixth turn at the plate, that five-run deficit had been wiped out and the score was 3-3.

Harris Falters.
At this point Bryan Harris was the Athletic pitcher. He retired three successive batters in the sixth. But in the seventh something went wrong. One of his pitches collided with Vangilder's side. Then Harris walked. There was some wig-wagging from the Athletic bench and Harris walked slowly off the field. He was replaced by Ed Rommel, Mack's one best bet.

Rommel had not thrown more than three times in the bull pen. He was "cold." Lamotte was the batter. He worked the call to 3-2 and then crashed one to left for a double, the two runs that decided the game coming over the fence. Then Lamar, seeing Vangilder take a slow windup, stole home. That put the club but one behind. But it was the last gasp.

In the ninth, Peete hit one on the nose, but it was a liner straight to Rice. Miller, who had made two extra base runs, sent up a foul of which Red Hargrave made a fine catch near the grandstand. It was fighting of the sort that was shown in the opener with the Browns that has kept the Athletics, not greatly thought of in the pre-season dope, in the fight for the flag. And it will keep Mack's team in the thick of the battling until the close of the campaign. This whether or not the club succeeds in its efforts to land the A. L. championship.

These same Athletics will be at it again today. Milton Gaston and Sam Gray are the probable pitchers. Play at 3 o'clock.

Brownie Notes
The start of the game was delayed 15 minutes while workmen were busy removing the tarpaulin from the field, following the heavy shower, which did everything but wash away the ball game. Despite this a crowd of some 4000 attended.

Mack employed 17 players in an effort to land victory. Two of these were pinch hitters.

Spotted with a five-run lead, Joe Bush failed to last. In less than four innings he was punished for eight safeties, all of them solid runs. Danforth was little better, but Elam Vangilder stopped the Opposition and was credited with the victory.

One of the peculiarities in the figuring of pitching records is found in the case of the Athletics. Although Harris did not permit a hit, he is charged with the defeat. But Harris, through his wildness, put two runners on the paths and both these scored. So he is responsible.

Jimmy Dykes took a hit away from Gene Robertson with a great one-hand stop of a bad bounding grounder in the sixth.

Captain of American Davis
Cupp Team Loses to Lucien Williams 7-5, 7-5.

By the Associated Press.
NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 19.—R. Norris Williams II of Philadelphia, a former champion and present captain of the American Davis Cup team, was muffed out of the competition of the ninth annual invitation tournament at the Newport Casino today by Lucien E. Williams of Chicago in a grueling match, 7-5, 7-5.

Manuel Alonso, captain of the Spanish Davis Cup team, conquered Dr. George King of New York, 6-3, 6-2.

The Spaniard was at the top of his game throughout, forcing his Metropolitan rival to romp the courts from the sideline to the center of the arduous amasses, most of them traveling with tremendous rapidity. The result is regarded in the light of a reversal as King was a favorite to defeat his rival before the start of the match.

Alonso won his service throughout, at the same time breaking through King's service four times in the match. Dr. King was plainly off his game, frequently driving apparently easy gets beyond the baselines.

R. I. C. Norton of St. Louis had little difficulty in defeating Gerald Sherred, University of California youth, 6-3, 6-2.

Norton won in a walk, eliminating the man who yesterday forced S. Howard Vossell of Kew Gardens, N. Y., out of the competition.

BRICK STREET PAVING STILL IN MOST GENERAL USE HERE

Tabulation by Chief Engineer Shows 23 Miles of This Material in St. Louis.

Brick is still the street paving material in most general use in St. Louis, as shown by a tabulation prepared today by Chief Engineer Horner of the Streets and Sewers Department. His tabulation is:

Brick, 223.51 miles; macadam, 139.59 miles; asphalt, 116.42 miles; bituminous macadam, 92.14 miles; bitulthic, 76.67 miles; granite, 65.85 miles; wood blocks, 22.71 miles; concrete, 11.11 miles; cement, 3.47 miles.

A tabulation by square yards, also prepared by Horner, shows the yardage of brick pavement to be 4,731,556 square yards, and sheet asphalt, including the Willits process, 2,948,992 square yards.

The 1924 paving program comprises 750,000 square yards, of which 35 per cent is to be asphalt, 25 per cent bitulthic, 20 per cent granite and 20 per cent miscellaneous.

JAPANESE SEEK SOVIET GRANTS
By the Associated Press.
MOSCOW, Aug. 19.—The Japanese delegation charged with negotiating for concessions on the island of Sakhalin has informed the Soviet Concessions Committee of the formation of two companies, one to exploit the oil fields and the other the coal mines. The first company is capitalized at $5,000,000, of which $2,000,000 are ready for immediate investment and the second will have $5,500,000 capital.

The delegation at present is discussing the principles of the Soviet concessions policy.

BOILING VARNISH STARTS FIRE

Cauldron Ignites Gum at Plant Causing $3000 Loss.
Fire yesterday destroyed the varnish plant of the Certain-teed Corporation at 197 East Grand avenue, causing a loss estimated at $3000 when a cauldron of varnish became overheated and ignited a quantity of gum. Eight employees working in the building, which is one story high, made their way to safety. The loss is covered by insurance.

Man, 68, Injured by Street Car.
Owen Kieran, 68 years old, of 3405 A. Alberta street, suffered a skull fracture at 5:30 p. m. yesterday, when he attempted to cross to the south side of the Market street car tracks, at 5800 Oakland avenue, and was struck by an east-bound car.

EAST SIDE RESTAURANT MAN FOUND DEAD IN CHICAGO

James Poulos of Wood River Was Shot Through Head—Had Suffered Business Reverses.

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—James Poulos, 30 years old, of Wood River, Ill., restaurant owner, dressed in the evening clothes he wore when he was married three months ago, was found, shot through the head, in the Blackstone Hotel last night. An automatic pistol lay by his side. Letters left by him indicated that marital and financial troubles had unbalanced his mind.

Poulos was the proprietor of the Elite Cafe in Wood River, where he had lived for the last three years. Monday reports were current in the town that he had disappeared, but were discarded as the restaurant was conducted by employees throughout the day. Tuesday morning, however, the restaurant did not open and a notice on the door stated that the property including the fixtures, had been seized by the owner of the building under a mortgage of $6500. Several other writs of attachment totaling slightly over $500 accompanied this.

Business men of Wood River say that, although the restaurant had the largest patronage of any in town, it was not solvent. A month ago his grocer placed him on a day-to-day basis, and another firm received a check from him a week ago which was later returned marked no funds. His wife, whom he married April 16, left late last night for Chicago.

Cigarette in Bed Starts Fire.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
POPULAR BLUFF, Mo., Aug. 18.—The originating in a room occupied by E. Byron, of Cairo, threatened the New Melbourn hotel, a three-story brick structure, here yesterday morning. Officers say Byron had lighted a cigarette which he left lying on the bed. When the fire truck arrived the bed was in flames and Byron had sought refuge in another room. He was arrested for being intoxicated.

WHEAT POOL PAID BIG PROFITS

South Dakota Farmers Got 17 Cents a Bushel More for Grain.

COLUMBIA, Mo., Aug. 19.—C. W. Croes, of the American Wheat Growers' Association and Manager of the South Dakota Wheat Pool, will be one of the speakers at the M. F. A. Convention in Sedalia, August 24, 25 and 26.

In 1928, Croes with 24 other leading South Dakota farmers held a meeting to consider the advisability of establishing a South Dakota Wheat Pool. Out of this meeting came the initial organization which started the South Dakota Wheat Growers' Association, which last year handled over $3,000,000 worth of wheat with Mr. Croes as its head. The 1934 wheat pool was recently closed and checks were mailed to the members which gave them an average of 17 1/2 cents per bushel more than the average cash price received by farmers who sold their wheat outside of the pool.

ADVERTISMENT Girl Gained 7 Pounds Nine Years an Invalid

That's just what McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets did for the Babcock Girl—and is doing as much for tens of thousands of thin, underweight, weak and discouraged people all over America.

These sugar coated, pleasant-to-take tablets should be given to children instead of the vile stomach upsetting oil itself—they surely do help the frail, delicate little ones and 60 tablets cost but 60 cents at Wolff-Wilson, Judge & Delp Drug Stores, Enderle Drug Co., Johnson Bros. Drug Co., or any real druggist anywhere in America.

Read this letter if you have a child that needs to gain health and strength.

"My little girl was stricken with infantile paralysis when she was 5 months old and was an invalid for 9 years. I saw an ad in the paper that McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets would build up wasted tissues. I bought a box and she gained very slowly at first and after taking eight boxes she gained seven pounds. Thanks to McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets after trying all the rest of the world she is now on the road to recovery and goes to school every day. Mrs. L. Babcock, Appleton, Wis.

Initiations of McCoy's may be offered, but be sure and ask for McCoy's, the original and genuine and if after thirty days treatment you are not delighted with results—why get your money back.

PETAÏN TO DIRECT DRIVE AGAINST RIFFS

French Army Chief Leaves Paris to Assume Command of New Offensive.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

Copyright, 1932, by the Press and Publisher Publishing Co., the New York World and the Post-Dispatch.

PARIS, Aug. 19.—Marshal Petaïn, commander-in-chief of the French armies, started for Morocco last night after a final conference with Premier Painlevé. He goes to assume supreme command of the offensive in preparation against Abd-el-Krim.

Petaïn will find at his disposal 100,000 men, with what is believed to be all necessary material for bringing the campaign against the Riffians to a successful end. Seventy-two battalions are in the lines, with 28 in reserve and available for maneuvers.

By the Associated Press.

FEZ, FRENCH MOROCCO, Aug. 19.—A French army corps is clearing out the troublesome Thous area north of Taza and the aviation forces are harrying to the northward retreating hostile tribesmen who once threatened Taza. This, however, is a local operation, although on a big scale, to sweep various parts of the army into place to consolidate the front and make all ready for an offensive.

CHEAPER BEER URGED AS AID TO UNEMPLOYMENT IN BRITAIN

Brewer Says Only Way to Cut Price of Beverage Is to Reduce Tax.

BRIGHTON, England, July 31.—Cheaper beer has been suggested as one remedy for the unemployment in England that has been bothering successive Governments since the war ended.

At the annual meeting of stockholders of a large brewery recently the chairman said that the country was still overburdened with taxation and that the crying demand today was for cheaper beer, which, he contended, could only be given by reducing the tax upon that beverage.

The chairman said that there are very few, including members of the Government, who realize the number of industries which are dependent upon the brewery trade, and that reduced taxation on beer would not only assist agriculture, but would go some way to meet the unemployment bureau.

MARK TWAIN MEMORIAL TO FEATURE INSURANCE BUILDING

New Structure at Keokuk, Ia., Located Next Door to Print Shop Where Humorist Worked.

By the Associated Press.

KEOKUK, Ia., Aug. 19.—A memorial for Mark Twain will be included in the new building of an insurance company here.

The new building will be located next door to the old print shop in which Mark Twain worked as a printer during 1856 setting type for a city directory, which is his brother Orion, published. In this directory the humorist gives his occupation as antiquarian.

A room or library in which will be kept many of the records of Clemens' personal life is the memorial planned. A picture of his photographs, autographs and possibly a copy of the directory on which Clemens worked will be included as part of the equipment of the room.

TOKIO TO RECLAIM 333 ACRES

$15,000,000 to Be Expended in Salvaging Low Ground.

Correspondence of the Associated Press.

TOKIO, July 21.—The municipal authorities have announced that several hundred acres of land in Tokyo, which yearly are inundated by floods, are to be raised by the use of earth removed in the construction of the new subway, sewers, water mains and other projects. The city has had this plan under consideration for a number of years, but it has been postponed from time to time because of lack of funds.

The total cost of salvaging the low ground and making it habitable is estimated at 30,000,000 yen ($15,000,000). The subway construction is expected to provide sufficient earth to cover 333 acres. The aid of the Government will be asked in the reclamation work.

THE QUICK AND EASY WAY TO END A CORN

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST By Aline Michaelis

THIRSTY SOIL.
As sweet as song upon a lonely ear, as bright as lights of home when sunbeams wane, so welcome when the skies have joyously been clear are shining jave-lins of summer rain. How joyously the thirsty trees and flowers stretch forth their leaves. How every emerald cup brims over with the sparkling crystal showers and every blade of grass is lifted up!
Not only in the blooming garden-plots where stately rose and lovely lily nod, but in all barren ways and cheerless spots rain brings revival to the parching clod. Would I could drink love's drafts as thirsty land drinks in the fragrant freshness of the rain, and give love back as earth on every hand in leaf and blossom gives back life again!

No more Maria Rome, no more painful care over her dressing, no more fear of getting tired because of how shyly it made her look, but the real thing, the real glorious thing itself.
"Shall I feel young?" she asked, eagerly now.
"Of course. Everything goes together. You understand—a woman's youth, and accordingly her looks, depends entirely on—"
The partner launched into a rapid explanation which was only saved from being excessively improper by its technical language.
Dr. Sanguesa sat silent, his elbows on the arms of his revolving chair, his fingertips together. He looked a remote, unfriendly, melancholy man, rather like the pictures she had seen of Napoleon III, with dark shadows under his heavy eyes, and a waxen skin. Every now and then his small mouth opened and he said quite automatically, "We will see," and shut it again.
She wanted to begin at once. It appeared she must be examined first, to find out if she could stand the treatment. This rather frightened her again. Why? How? Was the treatment so severe? What was it?
"We will see," said Dr. Sanguesa, mechanically nodding.
The partner became voluble, waving his hands about. Not at all—not at all severe; a matter of X-rays merely; but sometimes, if a woman's heart was weak—Catherine said she was sure her heart wasn't weak.
"We will see," said Dr. Sanguesa,
mechanically nodding.
"The examination is three

This Exercise Gives Grace By LUCREZIA BORI, The Famous Spanish Prima Donna

In a well-known book, written many, many years ago, and which is still read with interest and enthusiasm, we find a few lines about a doctor recommending passive to his patient who has become disturbed in mind and has gradually lost his health.
The patient wished to restore his former good health, and at the same time his interest in life. The doctor must have been a great and wise man, for he recommended a number of simple pleasures. Some of them would probably seem so simple and easy to accomplish that today we would feel as if advice for which we pay our money should be a little more complicated.
The part of the prescription to which I refer is a daily trip to the Zoo to watch the animals and, in particular, the elephant. Now you may be inclined to smile at first, but if you have never been to a Zoo when you had lots of time to watch the animals and study their ways you should do so at your first opportunity.
If you have been, or if you go often, you will doubtless know how altogether absorbed you can become in the animals and their ways and movements. You soon forget yourself and any troubles that may have been annoying you and realize how many things there are to arrest your attention in this big world we live in.
What I want you to notice in particular is the ease and abandon with which the animals move.
Indeed, I think the expression "as guinea," said the partner.

"Three more, or three of the same ones?" asked Catherine, rather stupidly.
"We will see," said the partner.
The partner interrupted him this time with a quickly lifted hand. He seemed to think Catherine's question was below the level of both his and her dignities and intelligence, for he looked as if he were a little ashamed of her as he said stiffly, "Three more."
She bowed her head. She would have bowed her head to anything if these men in exchange would give her youth.
The examination could be made at once, the partner said, if she was ready.
Yes, she was quite ready.
She got up instantly. They were used to eagerness, especially in the women patients, but this was a greater eagerness than usual. Dr.
Sanguesa's somber, sunken eyes

Children's Bedtime Story By Thornton W. Burgess

A Young Woodpecker Has a Bad Fright

Fear may overpower fear.
I hope you have my meaning clear.
—Old Mother Nature.

It being daylight, little Mrs.
Whitefoot the Wood Mouse in the lower apartment in the Green Forest, and little Mrs. Timmy the Flying Squirrel in the upper apartment, tried to sleep. You know they prefer to sleep during the daylight and come out at dusk.
But both of them kept thinking about Spooky the Screech Owl in another apartment in that very tree. So when they did sleep they had bad dreams.

Meanwhile the family of Drummer the Woodpecker was very wide awake. In fact, it was that day that the four young Woodpeckers came out of their apartment in that same tree. It was a great day for the Woodpecker family. The Great World seemed a very wonderful place to these young Woodpeckers as they clung to the tree and tried to see everything all at once. Their mother did her best to get them to try their wings. But it takes, a lot of courage to try to fly for the first time. So for a long time these young Woodpeckers were satisfied to cling closely to the tree. They moved about a little and got used to using their feet.

Now, it happened that one of them was a little livelier than the others, and this one kept climbing, an inch or two at a time, and at the same time he worked around to the other side of the tree. As he looked up he saw a hole just above him. He decided that he would like to see what was in that hole. He was full of curiosity.
He wondered if it could be another Woodpecker hole. So, little by little, he hitched his way up until he was to the very edge of that hole. It was a big hole. It was a very much bigger hole than the hole which was the entrance to the young Woodpecker's own home.
For a couple of minutes he clung at the edge of the entrance, trying to get up courage enough to put his head inside. Just as he was about to do this a dreadful thing happened. At least, it was dreadful to the young Woodpecker. A round face with a snapping hook-

It was the face of Spooky the Screech Owl ing their wings. Spooky glared angrily at the feathered folk screaming at him. Then, tiring of their noise, he went down out of sight. Almost at once the noise stopped and once more there was peace in the apartment tree.

Meanwhile Mrs. Drummer was leading her family over towards the Old Orchard.

It was News to her

THE idea came to her through a magazine advertisement she happened to see:

Using Listerine, the safe antiseptic, as a perspiration deodorant:

"Just apply it clear with a towel or wash cloth," the magazine said. "It evaporates quickly, leaves you immaculate and so refreshed. Try it. You'll be delighted."

It was news to her. But she tried it that evening and it worked. She has been using Listerine this way ever since.

Particularly, she is pleased with the fact that Listerine does not irritate even the most tender skin.
Nor does it injure or stain the most fragile fabric.

If you question the deodorizing properties of Lis-terine, make this simple test some day:

Rub a little fresh onion on your fingers. Then apply Listerine. The onion odor immediately disappears!

We felt you'd be glad to know about this new use for an old friend—pass it along to friends of yours.

pany, St. Louis, U. S. A.

TOO TRUE.

The fur bearing animal and the consumer has much in common. They both get skinned to death.

"Collinsville Water Tested and Found Pure."

"Old County Store Is Gone, Retailers Say."

Sure thing. The passing of the old cracker barrel, the basket of dried apples and the one-piece codfish, spelled the doom of the corner grocery.

The old cannon store and the box filled with sawdust that served as a target for expert marksmen of natural-twist to shoot at are one with the dodo and dinosaur. The tiller of the soil has deserted the open forum and left our Senators and Congressmen flat on their backs to solve the nation's problems as best they may.

STEPS OFF CURB TO BOARD A CAR, KILLED BY AUTO

John B. Bruns, Salesman, Run Over by Machine Driven by Bank Clerk at Gustine and Arsenal St.

108TH SUCH FATALITY HERE THIS YEAR

Robert Eberle, 19, Operator of the Car, Says He Didn't See Victim in Time to Avoid Accident.

John B. Bruns, 24 years old, a salesman, of 2520 Acorn street, was killed early today by an automobile as he stepped from the curb into the street to board a street car at Arsenal street and Gustine avenue.

Robert Eberle, 19 years old, a bank clerk, of 2644 Junata street, was driving east in Arsenal street, a little in advance of an east-bound Tower Grove car. As he passed Gustine avenue, about 1 a. m., Bruns stepped into the street to hail the approaching street car. Eberle reported he did not observe the pedestrian until the instant the latter stepped in front of the automobile.

A city hospital Bruns was found to have suffered a fractured skull, fractured left leg and internal injuries. He died at 2:25 a. m. Eberle was released on bond.

Brun's death was the 108th motor vehicle fatality in St. Louis this year. Last year at this time there were 100 such deaths.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Niedringhaus Hurt in Auto Collision

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Niedringhaus of 222 Melville avenue, University City, were seriously injured when their automobile, collided with another automobile and was overturned at Spring and Page avenues, St. Louis County, Tuesday evening.

Both were pinioned in the overturned car for several minutes, until other motorists succeeded in extricating them. They were taken to St. Mary's Hospital, where it was said Mrs. Niedringhaus had suffered internal injuries and a probable fracture of several ribs. Niedringhaus suffered a fracture of a small bone in the left knee and one in the right foot. They were removed to their home.

Fred Theebe, a day miner, living on Walton road, St. Louis County, was the driver of the other car. He complained to county authorities that Niedringhaus, who was driving in Spring avenue, failed to observe the boulevard stop sign at Page avenue. The automobiles collided at right angles. Theebs obtained a warrant charging Niedringhaus with careless and reckless driving. Niedringhaus, who is 35 years old, is a special agent of the Missouri State Life Insurance Co.

Bus Passengers Hurt When It Hits Truck Trailer

An eastbound People's Motor bus, carrying 24 passengers, collided with a trailer on the rear of a truck belonging to the International Shoe Co., about 9 o'clock this morning, at Thirteenth street and Washington boulevard. Two of the passengers were taken to the City Hospital for treatment, and the rest escaped with a severe shaking.

Bob Kurlander, 45 years old, 5821 Clemens avenue, received a sprained left knee, and Mrs. Helga Happer, 25 years old, of 4553 Delmar boulevard, was found to be suffering from shock.

Leland Maples, the bus driver, 22 years old, 5222 Delmar boulevard, said he attempted to avoid hitting the truck, when his bus skidded on the wet pavement, and the rear end crashed into the trailer hitched to the truck. The International Shoe Co. truck was driven by James Burke, 165 Sidney street.

WISCONSIN ELECTION SEPT. 29

Governor Files Date for Choosing La Follette Successor.

By the Associated Press.

MADISON, Wis., Aug. 20.—The special election for United States Senator to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Robert M. La Follette, will be held Sept. 29, Gov. Blaine issued the call today. The special primary to nominate candidates for the office will be held two weeks before the election, the law provides.

Secretary of State E. Zimmerman said the special preliminary election will be called for Sept. 12. Nomination papers for the primary must be filed 18 days before the primary, which will be Aug. 23, leaving eight days from today for the circulation of the petition.
